

Seedshakers

plant. water. grow.

<http://seedshakers.weebly.com/intelligence-test-gospel-tract.html>

The Intelligence Test Gospel Tracts are great springboards to get into gospel centered conversations. So what are some ways that you can use them as icebreakers to swing from the natural to the spiritual? I'll share with you what I like to do with them and list out several other ways to strike up gospel conversations.

When I'm approaching someone or they are about to walk by me, I will say "Hi, (with a smile) did you get one of these? It's an intelligence test." If I sense that they are in a hurry (they tend to be in motion) I will just say something like "The answers are on the back, don't cheat though! Have a great day!" This will usually get them smiling and they will be more apt to take the time to read through the gospel tract at a time that is a little more convenient. If a person stops and looks at the gospel tract and starts to read the IQ questions this is the golden opportunity. I will usually say, "so...how many animals did Moses take on the ark?" It's your chance to walk them through the questions. As soon as you finish with an intelligence test gospel tract question go on to the next one. You're building the bridge, so to speak, that will cross over into the gospel. The last question makes the swing into spiritual things. You can say something like, "It's a coffin, which reminds us all that we will die. The Bible says that it's appointed unto man once to die and then comes judgment. How will you do on judgment day? Would you consider yourself to be a good person?" And so on. Your gospel presentation doesn't have to be Way of the Master style but it should consist of sin (transgression of God's law), righteousness, judgment, the life, death and resurrection of Jesus, repentance and faith. Be led by the Spirit of God and trust that He will fill your mouth with knowledge and wisdom when sharing the gospel.

Some other catch phrases to use with the Intelligence Test Gospel Tracts:

Hey, how are you doing? You look like an intelligent person. (Smile real big) Here's an IQ test for you.

FREE IQ TESTS.....Get your free IQ tests right here!

See if you are intelligent, take a free IQ test!

Did you get your free intelligence test yet?

Here you go, it's an IQ test!

For more Gospel Tracts and Tips on using them visit

WWW.SEEDSHAKERS.COM